04 • THE NIGHT OF THE 2-1

THE NIGHT OF THE 2-1.

The European Crown final, Stadio delle Torri, Rome, 2025.

“Eighty-ninth minute. I came inside onto my left and heard nothing at all until it hit the net. Then I heard everything.”

THEY KNOW WHAT HE IS going to do.

The full-back knows what is coming. Take it on the line, face him up, go inside onto the left. Then whip it. A wall at the end of his street taught him that before any coach did, and nobody has found the answer since.

“The wall at the end of our street had one dead brick. Hit it clean and the whole street heard it.”

CARRER DEL MAR, PALAMAR, 2013

2023 • THE SPRING HIS FOOT BROKE

BROKEN AT SEVENTEEN.

A stress fracture, three weeks after his first start, in the season everyone had decided was his. Nine weeks in a boot and the rest of it watched from the stand, where he learned where the space opens before the ball moves. He came back in March, and finished the season with the first team.

"Fifty-five thousand people and I could still hear my mother. Nine minutes into my first game, first touch, far corner."

“Every summer I go home and hit that same brick. It still rings. I still keep count.”
